Care home director today and tomorrow Pressure, concessions, compromises and solutions

27th – 29th
September 2017
Toruń, Poland

Over 1.000 European care home directors and experts will come to Toruń to join the discussion, share their experience and establish new networks. Save the date and do not miss the opportunity to participate in this unique event!

While Europe is growing older, its societies face a difficult challenge of building effective care systems for the dependent people. This task lies with the national governments, yet its execution belongs to the entire community engaged in improving the European long-term care: non-governmental organizations working in this field and socially responsible business.

Managers of long-term care facilities face new challenges as the environment changes and the needs of the system beneficiaries grow. How to prepare for the future and increase the management efficiency? This is the key question we will try to answer in Toruń, in 2017.

We believe that knowledge, cooperation and the exchange of experiences are the base for improving the quality of care. In the spirit of shared responsibility for the dependent citizens of Europe, aspiring to integrate a circle of professionals as wide as possible, we organize a joint undertaking: 15th EDE Congress and 20th International Long-Term Care Conference.

We believe that by means of cooperation we multiply the chances to achieve our shared objectives.

Come and join us.
